

Technical Guidance

| Earth bonding - certificate of compliance |

Question

Is a certificate of compliance required for earth bonding?

Answer

BS7671 "Requirements for electrical installations" requires a completion certificate to be provided to the builder by the electrical contractor. This certificate covers all aspects of the installation, including earth bonding.