Welcome

Buildmark is specially designed for newly built homes. It provides varying levels of protection for up to 10 years, for the first owner and any later owners too. We (National House-Building Council, also known as NHBC) and the builder of your home provide Buildmark.

This document contains the terms and conditions of Buildmark. It is a legal agreement between you, the builder and us.

We recommend that you read this document, as it will give you the information you need to help you understand what protection you have.

If you are not sure about anything in this document, you can contact us to check what protection you have for your home.

Note: This example shows how Buildmark works in typical circumstances (but not all circumstances). Different periods and conditions also apply to shared parts. You should refer to the full terms and conditions in this document (including the exclusions and limits) to see if a particular problem is covered by Buildmark. You can contact us for help if you are not sure. Cover for not meeting Building Regulations is only provided if we provide the building control for your home.

Typical example of Buildmark

(see note below)

From exchange of contracts up to the completion date

Your deposit is usually protected if, for example, the builder becomes insolvent. See Insurance before completion \(page 13\).

Building work completed and move in

First two years from the completion date

The builder must put right anything that is not built to the NHBC requirements. If they do not, we will do it on their behalf. See Builder warranty, our resolution service and our guarantee \(page 14\) for full details.

The next eight years

Your home is protected against structural problems. You may have extra cover if the Building Regulations have not been met and for land contamination. See Insurance after the builder warranty, extra insurance for the Building Regulations and extra insurance for contamination \(pages 17 to 21\) for more information.

Meanings of key words and phrases

Certain words or phrases in this document have a specific meaning as summarised below.

builder	The person, firm or company responsible for building your home. This is the NHBC-registered builder or developer identified as the builder in the Buildmark offer and the Buildmark certificate for your home.
builder warranty period	The two years from the completion date, except for shared parts. For shared parts, the builder warranty period is three years from the first completion date of the homes that are protected by Buildmark and similar protection we provide to your neighbours who share the shared parts.
building, builds, built	This means newly built, newly converted or renovated homes.
Building Regulations	Regulations made under the Building Act 1984, The Welsh Ministers (Transfer of Functions) (No. 2) Order 2009, the Building (Scotland) Act 2003, the Building Regulations (Northern Ireland) Order 1979, or similar legislation that applies to the construction of your home.
Buildmark	The protection we and the builder provide for your home, as explained in this document.
Buildmark certificate	The certificate we issue to the first owner to confirm a home is protected by Buildmark.
Buildmark confirmation	The document we issue to the builder to confirm we are willing to provide the full protection of Buildmark.
Buildmark offer	The offer of protection with Buildmark we make to the first owner.
completion date	This is the later of the following dates. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The date of legal completion of the purchase by the first owner (or, in Scotland, the date of entry).• The date of the Buildmark confirmation. However, if a builder builds a home under a building contract (for example on land owned by or to be bought separately by the first owner) or someone is living in a property before the date of legal completion (or, in Scotland, the date of entry) of the purchase by the first owner, the completion date is always the date of the Buildmark confirmation. contamination	The presence of a substance in or on your land after it escapes or spreads or is deposited or released.
continuous structure	A structure containing two or more homes. For example, we would treat a terrace of houses as one continuous structure, but we would treat two apartment blocks joined by a bridge, walkway or an underground car park as two continuous structures.

contract	The contract (or, in Scotland, missive) between the builder and the first owner of a home to buy from the builder, or for the builder to build, the home referred to in the Buildmark offer.
deposit	The amount you paid the builder as part payment for the purchase price of your home.
development	An area that is covered by a single detailed planning permission or a series of permissions relating to continuous development by the builder.
home	The residential property referred to in a Buildmark offer and Buildmark certificate, together with any of the following which are sold or provided under the contract. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> The shared parts. The parts of the drainage system serving the property, which the owner is responsible for. The garages, permanent outbuildings, retaining walls and boundary walls. The external handrails and balustrades, paths, drives, gardens and paved areas newly built by the builder at the completion date. The electrical fixed-wiring and fixed-lighting system, plumbing, heating system, air-conditioning system, smoke alarm, waste-disposal unit and water-softening equipment newly installed in the home by the builder at the completion date. It does not include any fence, temporary structure, swimming pool, lift or any electrical, electronic or mechanical equipment (whether built-in or not) except items listed in 'e' above and items included in your home to meet the Building Regulations.
insolvent	The builder is insolvent if they: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> have died; are declared bankrupt (or, in Scotland, sequestrated); are in liquidation; have had an administrator appointed; have had an administrative receiver or a receiver or manager appointed over any or all of their property, assets or business undertakings; or are the subject of any other insolvency procedure or have a judicial factor appointed to their business.
land	The ground that surrounds and supports your home and was sold with your home to the first owner under the contract.
main structure	The following parts of your home. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Your house, flat or maisonette. In the case of a flat or maisonette, the structure of the building your home is in. The garages and permanent outbuildings.
NHBC, we, us, our	National House-Building Council, incorporated and registered in England and Wales with company number 00320784. Registered office: NHBC House, Davy Avenue, Knowlhill, Milton Keynes, Bucks MK5 8FP.

NHBC requirements

Where we refer to NHBC requirements in Buildmark, this means R1, R2, R3 and R4 of the mandatory NHBC technical requirements contained in the NHBC Standards, which are as follows (as taken from the NHBC Standards).

R1. Work shall comply with all relevant Building Regulations and other statutory requirements relating to the completed construction work. Please note this does not include statutory requirements concerning planning permission, which is not covered by the NHBC Standards.

R2. Design and specification shall provide satisfactory performance.

R3. All materials, products and building systems shall be suitable for their intended purpose.

R4. All work shall be carried out in a proper, neat and workmanlike manner.

The NHBC Standards include supporting guidance and performance standards. If we need to refer to these when we are dealing with a claim under Buildmark, we will refer to the NHBC Standards that applied when the builder was building your home.

original purchase price

The purchase price paid by the first owner of your home.

owner, you, your

The person (or people) who entered into the contract for your home, or any person (or people) who take over the freehold, commonhold or leasehold title of the property or, where this applies, any mortgage provider who has taken possession of your home.

resolution report

A written report we issue as part of the resolution service.

resolution service

The service we provide to decide what work the builder must do to meet their responsibilities under Buildmark.

shared parts (also known as common parts)

The property, as set out below, that you and any other homeowners share the use of and are responsible for the maintenance and repair of, when that responsibility comes with your home

- In the case of a flat or maisonette, the structure of the building your home is in.
- The drainage system serving your home.
- The garages, permanent outbuildings, retaining walls and boundary walls.
- The external handrails and balustrades, paths, drives, gardens and paved areas, newly built by the builder at the completion date.

statutory notice

A notice served by an enforcement body under Part II(A) of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 or Part III of the Waste and Contaminated Land (Northern Ireland) Order 1997 or under equivalent legislation of the Isle of Man (or any legislation which amends or replaces that legislation), requiring you to take action to put right contamination.

Buildmark summary

Insurance before completion (section 1)

This explains what we will do under our insurance if you lose your deposit or have to pay more to complete the building of your home because the builder is insolvent or commits fraud.

Builder warranty, our resolution service and our guarantee (section 2)

This explains what the builder must do if they failed to meet the NHBC requirements when building your home and what we will do if they do not put things right.

Insurance after the builder warranty (section 3)

This explains what we will do under our insurance if the builder failed to meet the NHBC requirements when building certain parts of your home.

Extra insurance for the Building Regulations (section 4)

This explains what we will do under our insurance if the builder failed to meet the Building Regulations when building your home. This section applies only if we provided the building control service for your home. If we did, this will be stated on the Buildmark certificate.

Extra insurance for contamination (section 5)

This explains what we will do under our insurance if there is contamination in or on your land.

Introduction to your Buildmark policy

Buildmark helps protect you against certain problems with your home and your land resulting from the builder:

- becoming insolvent or acting fraudulently; or
- failing to meet the NHBC requirements (see below).

The protection provided for your deposit under section 1 (see page 13) comes into force when you exchange contracts and stops on the completion date for your home.

Sections 2 to 5 come into force on the completion date for your home and we have issued a Buildmark confirmation.

The protection provided by Buildmark is restricted to what is described in this document. In particular:

- there are some things that are not our responsibility, as explained on page 11;
- there are limits to how much we will pay, as explained in each section and summarised on page 23; and
- some or all of the Buildmark protection may be used up as explained in each section and summarised on page 23.

Buildmark does not protect you against things such as loss or damage to your home or contents resulting from fire, flood, storms, theft or accidental damage. We recommend that you take out separate insurance for these things.

Minimum claim value

We do not apply an excess under any section of Buildmark, so you do not have to pay the first part of a claim.

We do apply a minimum claim value to section 3. This means that if the cost of the work you are claiming for is below the minimum claim value, we will not do the work or pay anything towards the cost. However, if the cost to us of dealing with your claim is above the minimum claim value, we will do the work or pay the cost in full and you will not have to make a contribution.

Minimum claim value table

The following table shows you the minimum claim value amount for any claim that you make in a particular year against your Buildmark policy.

	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026
£	1,550	1,600	1,650	1,700	1,750	1,800	1,850	1,900	1,950	2,000

NHBC requirements

All builders registered with us must meet the NHBC requirements. These are contained in the NHBC Standards we publish. You can contact us for a free copy of the NHBC Standards.

We aim to inspect your home at key stages while it is being built. If we are satisfied with the standard of work we see during our inspections, we will issue a Buildmark confirmation to the builder when your home is completed. We will also issue a Buildmark certificate to the first owner when they accept the Buildmark offer.

The NHBC Standards include supporting guidance and performance standards. If we need to refer to these when we are dealing with a claim under Buildmark, we will refer to the NHBC Standards that applied when the builder was building your home.

Things Buildmark does not protect you against Buildmark does not protect you against every event or circumstance – it only protects you against the things outlined in this document. Some important things that Buildmark does not protect you against are explained below.

You cannot claim under Buildmark for any of the following or for anything resulting from any of these.

1. Anything that the Buildmark certificate says is excluded.
2. Anything which you (or a previous owner) have already claimed for under Buildmark.
3. Anything you can claim for, or have claimed for, under a different insurance, warranty or guarantee scheme or a formal compensation scheme (for example, for subsidence caused by coal mining or pumping brine).
4. Anything that you knew about before you bought your home or your land and which you agreed a reduction in the price for or were compensated in some other way.
5. Anything done to your home or your land after the completion date, except for work we or the builder have done to meet the responsibilities we or they have under Buildmark.
6. Wear and tear, neglect and failure to do appropriate maintenance.
7. Damage caused by apparatus operating as it is designed to do – for example, sprinkler systems, flood-protection systems and drainage systems.
8. Damage caused by anything which is not part of your home or your land.
9. Storms and other severe weather conditions.
10. Flooding and changes in the water-table level.
11. Fire and smoke.
12. Damp, condensation and shrinkage which is not a result of the builder failing to meet the NHBC requirements.
13. The builder failing to get planning permission, or failing to build in line with planning permission.
14. Reduction in the value of your home or your land, not being able to use or enjoy your home or your land, financial loss (such as loss of rent or other income), inconvenience and distress.
15. Death or injury (including injury to mental health).
16. The cost of getting professional advice in connection with your claim (except for legal costs we must pay under our guarantee in section 2 if you take legal action against the builder).
17. War, invasion, acts of foreign enemies, hostilities (whether war is declared or not), civil war, rebellion, revolution, insurrection, use of military or usurped power, or confiscation, nationalisation, requisition or destruction of or damage to property by or under the order of any government or public or local authority, acts of terrorism (regardless of the timing of another contributing cause or event), or action taken to control, prevent or suppress an act of terrorism. 'Terrorism' means acts, including force, violence or threat by a person or group whether acting alone or on behalf of, or in connection with, an organisation or government that are committed for political, religious, ideological or similar purposes including the intention to influence a government or to put people in fear.

If you are not sure about what is not covered by your policy, you can contact us to check.

Making a claim

What you need to do

You need to take all reasonable steps to minimise loss and damage to your home.

If we or the builder ask you to, you must:

- allow access to your home and your land during normal working hours to carry out investigations and work;
- get permission to access neighbouring land and get any other permission needed to allow investigations and work; and
- give any information and help that is reasonably needed.

We may ask you to carry out some initial investigations. For example, we may ask you to:

- send us photographs of the problem; and
- send us a report about the problem, confirming its cause. For example, for a blocked drain, we may ask you to get a report from a drainage specialist or for a problem with a gas flue, we may ask you to get a report from a registered heating engineer.

If you have difficulty doing these things, contact us and we will try to help.

Never do anything that might put you or someone else in danger.

How we calculate what we have to pay

If we have to pay for a claim you make, we will calculate the amount we will pay based on the amount it will cost us to have the work done. However:

- we will not pay more than a reasonable amount;
- we will not pay to replace an undamaged item simply because it does not match a replacement item provided under Buildmark; and
- we will not be responsible for costs resulting from your unreasonable delay in making a claim.

Claims involving shared parts

If we accept a claim involving shared parts, we will be responsible for having the work done to put things right if you and all your neighbours who share the shared parts all want us to and we would be responsible for the cost of all the work under Buildmark and similar protection we provide for your neighbours.

In all other circumstances, unless we agree otherwise, we will pay to you up to the amount that you are required to contribute towards the cost of repairs under your lease or maintenance agreement or, if in Scotland, under the title deeds of your home.

For claims involving shared parts, all the same terms apply as for other claims under the relevant section of Buildmark (which follow).

For claims under section 3 involving shared parts, the minimum claim value (see page 10) applies to your share of the cost. We may still pay or take responsibility for having work done to the shared parts even if your share of the cost is less than the minimum claim value. We will do this if the total cost to us of the work we are responsible for paying for under Buildmark and similar protection we provide for your neighbours is more than 10 times the minimum claim value.

Insurance before completion

Section 1

What you are covered for

This section protects you if you lose your deposit or have to pay more to complete the building of your home because the builder is insolvent or commits fraud.

When you can claim

You can claim under this section after contracts are exchanged up to the legal completion date.

Who to contact

Contact us and tell us if you have lost your deposit or the builder has not completed your home.

What we will do

We will pay you:

- your deposit; or
- the reasonable extra cost above the contract price for work necessary to complete your home to the NHBC requirements.

Or, we may take responsibility for having the work done to complete your home.

Conditions and limits

The insolvency or fraud that results in your claim must happen after you accept the Buildmark offer.

Some things are not our responsibility under Buildmark (as explained on page 11).

Financial limits

We will pay you up to 10% of the original purchase price, up to £100,000, in total for all claims under this section.

Builder warranty, our resolution service and our guarantee

Section 2

What you are covered for

This section protects you if the builder failed to meet the NHBC requirements when building your home and you tell them about it or any resulting damage.

When you can claim

You can claim under this section if you tell the builder about their failure to meet the NHBC requirements during the two years from the completion date, except for shared parts.

For shared parts you can claim under this section if you tell the builder they have failed to meet the NHBC requirements during the three years from the first completion date of the homes that are protected by Buildmark and similar protection we provide to your neighbours who share the shared parts.

Who to contact

Contact the builder and tell them if you think they failed to meet the NHBC requirements when building your home.

You must do this as soon as you reasonably can. We recommend that you do this by email or letter and that you keep a detailed record of what you said, and who you wrote or spoke to and when.

Please contact us if you believe the builder will not be able to meet their responsibilities.

What the builder must do

If you tell the builder during the builder warranty period that they have failed to meet the NHBC requirements, they must put this right within a reasonable time. This includes:

- repairing physical damage to your home resulting from their failure; and
- paying for the reasonable cost of removing and storing your possessions and alternative accommodation, if necessary, while work is being done.

What we will do

If, after you contact the builder, they do not put things right, please contact us.

- We will offer to provide our free resolution service. However, you may choose to take the builder to court before or after using our resolution service.
- If the builder still does not put things right after the resolution service or a court judgment says they should, you are protected by the NHBC guarantee (see page 15).
- When you tell them about a problem during the builder warranty period, the builder remains responsible for dealing with it even after that period ends. You can also claim under the NHBC guarantee.

Our resolution service

If you agree to us providing our resolution service, we will contact the builder about the problems you reported to us.

If the builder still does not deal with the matter to your satisfaction, we will investigate and then decide what the builder must do to meet their responsibilities.

We will then tell you and the builder what we decide in a written resolution report.

Our guarantee

You are protected by the NHBC guarantee for what we (in a resolution report) or a court (in a judgment or, in Scotland, a decree) decides the builder should have done to meet their responsibilities under the builder warranty.

If the builder does not meet these responsibilities, we will do so on their behalf. Or, if we choose to, we will pay you what it would cost us to have the work done.

Conditions and limits

A resolution report is binding on the builder but not on you.

If the builder does not meet their responsibilities, you may choose to take them to court if you disagree with the decision in our resolution report or if you choose not to use the resolution service. If you do begin a court case, the NHBC guarantee only applies to the decisions about the builder’s responsibilities made in a judgment or, in Scotland, a decree, against the builder in the courts of the United Kingdom or the Isle of Man, if the court has given the judgment or decree after considering the merits of your claim.

We can only help with disputes about the builder’s failure to build your home to meet the NHBC requirements. We cannot help with other matters such as disputes over boundaries, planning, contractual and financial matters.

You cannot claim for something under the NHBC guarantee if you can claim for it under section 1 (see page 13), or if you could have done when you first knew about it.

Some things are not the builder’s responsibility under Buildmark (see page 11).

Financial limits (sections 2 and 3 combined)

The limits below are the total amounts we will pay for all claims made under sections 2 and 3 of Buildmark.

These limits are used up as we accept claims. If you are not the first owner of your home, the limits may already have been partly or fully used up by claims from earlier owners.

On each anniversary of the completion date the limits are increased by 5% of the original limit (not 5% of the current limit). We then deduct the amounts we have paid or have to pay for claims we have accepted.

Contact us if you would like to know what the remaining financial limits are.

Limits that apply to your home		Overall limits for the continuous structure that includes your home (if this applies)
New build	Conversion or renovation	New build or a mixture of new build, conversion or renovation	Conversion or renovation
The original purchase price, up to £1,000,000	The original purchase price, up to £500,000	£25,000,000	£5,000,000

For removing and storing your possessions and for alternative accommodation, we will pay up to 10% from the available financial limit (shaded ● green in the table above).

Overall limits for the continuous structure that includes your home (where this applies)

If your home is in a continuous structure, there are overall limits that will apply (shaded ● yellow in the table on the previous page). This is the maximum amount we will pay for all claims you make under sections 2 and 3, as well as claims other people in the continuous structure make under Buildmark or similar protection we provide. We deal with all claims in the order they are made. When the overall limit is reached, we will be unable to pay any further claims.

Insurance after the builder warranty

Section 3

What you are covered for

This section protects you if there is physical damage to your home because the builder failed to build the following parts of your home to meet the NHBC requirements.

- Foundations, walls, external cladding, curtain walling, external render and external vertical tile hanging, roofs, ceilings, balconies, load-bearing parts of the floors (such as floor joists), flues, chimneys and access steps, to the main structure.
- Staircases, floor decking and screeds to the inside of the main structure, if they fail to support normal loads.
- Retaining walls, if they are necessary for the main structure to be stable.
- Double- or triple-glazing panes to outside windows and outside doors, in the main structure, if these are newly installed at the completion date.
- Drainage below the ground, which you are responsible for.

When you can claim

You can claim under this section during the eight years after the builder warranty period ends.

Who to contact

Contact us and tell us if you think there is physical damage to your home.

What we will do

We will take responsibility for having the work done to put right the physical damage to your home, as long as the cost to us is above the minimum claim value.

Or, if we choose to, we will pay you what it would cost us to have the work done if it is above the minimum claim value.

We will also pay for the reasonable cost to us of removing and storing your possessions and alternative accommodation, if necessary, while this work is being done.

Conditions and limits

You cannot claim for the following.

- Damage to the roof covering (including any underlays, fixings, mortar and weatherproofing details) unless the damage results in water getting into your home
- Shrinkage, thermal movement or movement between different types of materials
- Cracking, spalling (parts of the building breaking off in fragments), or mortar erosion that does not damage the structural stability of your home or mean that it is no longer weather tight
- Water entering, or dampness or condensation in, an underground garage, where its structural stability is not affected
- The transmission of sound into, within or from your home
- Damage which only affects floor coverings such as tiles

- Changes in the colour or texture of, or staining to, external finishes
- Replacing solar roof tiles or panels just because they do not produce heat or electricity

You cannot claim for something under this section if you can claim for it under sections 1 or 2 (see pages 13 and 14), or if you could have done when you first knew about the problem.

Some things are not our responsibility under Buildmark (see page 11).

Financial limits (sections 2 and 3 combined)

The limits below are the total amounts we will pay for all claims made under sections 2 and 3 of Buildmark.

These limits are used up as we accept claims. If you are not the first owner of your home, the limits may already have been partly or fully used up by claims from previous owners.

On each anniversary of the completion date the limits are increased by 5% of the original limit (not the current limit). We then deduct the amounts we have paid or have to pay for claims we have accepted.

Contact us if you would like to know what the remaining financial limits are.

Limits that apply to your home		Overall limits for the continuous structure that includes your home (if this applies)
New build	Conversion or renovation	New build or a mixture of new build, conversion or renovation	Conversion or renovation
The original purchase price, up to £1,000,000	The original purchase price, up to £500,000	£25,000,000	£5,000,000

For removing and storing your possessions and for alternative accommodation, we will pay up to 10% from the available financial limit (shaded ● green in the table above).

Overall limits for the continuous structure that includes your home (where this applies)

If your home is in a continuous structure, there are overall limits that will apply (shaded ● yellow in the table above). This is the maximum amount we will pay for all claims you make under sections 2 and 3, as well as claims other people in the continuous structure make under Buildmark or similar protection we provide. We deal with all claims in the order they are made. When the overall limit is reached, we will be unable to pay any further claims.

Extra insurance for the Building Regulations

Section 4

This section will only apply if we provided the building control service for your home. If we did, this will be stated on the Buildmark certificate for your home.

Building control is the process of helping builders make sure that they meet the Building Regulations set by the Government. By law either a Local Authority or a private-sector 'approved inspector', licensed by the Construction Industry Council, must provide building control services.

What you are covered for

This section protects you if there is an immediate danger to someone's physical health or safety because the builder failed to meet the following Building Regulations when building the main structure of your home.

- Part A – Structure
- Part B – Fire safety
- Part C – Site preparation and resistance to contaminants and moisture
- Part J – Combustion appliances and fuel storage systems
- Part K – Protection from falling, collision and impact (England and Wales versions)
- Part N – Glazing - Safety in relation to impact, opening and cleaning (Wales only)

When you can claim

You can claim under this section during the eight years after builder warranty period ends.

Who to contact

Contact us and tell us if you think there is an immediate danger to someone's physical health or safety.

What we will do

We will take responsibility for having the work done to meet the Building Regulations.

Or, if we choose to, we will pay you what it would cost us to have the work done.

We will also pay for the reasonable cost to us of removing and storing your possessions and alternative accommodation, if necessary, while this work is being done.

Conditions and limits

You cannot claim for something under this section if you can claim for it under sections 1, 2 or 3 (see pages 13, 14 and 17) or if you could have done when you first knew about it.

Some things are not our responsibility under Buildmark (see page 11).

Financial limits

The limits below are the total amounts we will pay for all claims made under this section of Buildmark.

These limits are used up as we accept claims. If you are not the first owner of your home, the limits may already have been partly or fully used up by claims from previous owners.

On each anniversary of the completion date the limits are increased by 5% of the original limit (not the current limit). We then deduct the amounts we have paid or have to pay for claims we have accepted.

Contact us if you would like to know what the remaining financial limits are.

Limits that apply to your home		Overall limits for the continuous structure that includes your home (where this applies)
New build	Conversion or renovation	New build or a mixture of new build, conversion or renovation	Conversion or renovation
The original purchase price, up to £1,000,000	The original purchase price, up to £500,000	£25,000,000	£5,000,000

For removing and storing your possessions and for alternative accommodation, we will pay up to 10% from the available financial limit (shaded ● green in the table above).

Overall limits for the continuous structure that includes your home (where this applies)

If your home is in a continuous structure, there are overall limits that will apply (shaded ● yellow in the table above). This is the maximum amount we will pay for all claims you make under this section as well as claims other people in the continuous structure make under Buildmark or similar protection we provide. We deal with all claims in the order they are made. When the overall limit is reached, we will be unable to pay any further claims.

Extra insurance for contamination

Section 5

What you are covered for

This section protects you if you receive a statutory notice for your land or a statutory notice could be issued because of the condition of your land.

When you can claim

You can claim under this section during the eight years after the builder warranty period ends.

Who to contact

Contact us and tell us if you receive a statutory notice for your land or you think the condition of your land means that a statutory notice could be issued.

What we will do

We will take responsibility for having the work done to treat, isolate or remove contamination from your land in line with the statutory notice you have received or, if you have not received one, so that the condition of your land improves to prevent a statutory notice being issued.

Or, if we choose to, we will pay you what it would cost us to have the work done.

We will also pay for the reasonable cost to us of removing and storing your possessions and alternative accommodation, if necessary, while this work is being done.

Conditions and limits

You can claim only if there was contamination on or in your land on the completion date and this could have resulted in a statutory notice being issued under legislation or official guidance in force at that time.

You cannot claim for something under this section if you can claim for it under sections 1, 2, 3 or 4 (pages 13, 14, 17 and 19) or if you could have done when you first knew about it.

Some things are not our responsibility under Buildmark (see page 11).

Overall limits for the development that includes your land (where this applies)

If your land is in a development, there is an overall limit that will apply (shaded ● red in the table above). This is the maximum amount we will pay for all claims you make under this section, as well as claims other people in the development make under Buildmark or similar protection we provide. We deal with all claims in the order they are made. When the overall limit is reached, we will be unable to pay any further claims.

Summary of the limits to how much we will pay

The limits that apply to your home and your land for claims under each section of Buildmark are summarised in the table below. They are also included in each of the relevant sections of this document.

Limits are used up as we accept claims. If you are not the first owner of your home, the limits may already have been partly or fully used up by claims from previous owners.

Contact us if you would like to know what the remaining financial limits are for your home and your land.

	Limits that apply to your home and your land		Overall limits for the continuous structure that includes your home (where this applies)		Overall limits for the development that includes your land (where this applies)

Allowing for inflation

On each anniversary of the completion date, the limits that apply for claims under sections 2, 3, 4 and 5 (shaded ● green in the table on the previous page) are increased by 5% of the original limit (not the current limit). We then deduct the amounts we have paid or have to pay for claims we have accepted.

Alternative accommodation

For removing and storing your possessions and for alternative accommodation, we will pay up to 10% from the available financial limit (shaded ● green in the table on the previous page).

Overall limits for the continuous structure that includes your home (where this applies)

If your home is in a continuous structure, there are overall limits that will apply (shaded ● yellow in the table on the previous page). This is the maximum amount we will pay for all claims you make under sections 2, 3 and 4, as well as claims other people in the continuous structure make under Buildmark or similar protection we provide. We deal with all claims in the order they are made. When the overall limit is reached, we will be unable to pay any further claims.

Overall limits for the development that includes your land (where this applies)

If your land is in a development, there is an extra overall limit that will apply (shaded ● red in the table on the previous page). This is the maximum amount we will pay for all claims you make under section 5, as well as claims other people in the development make under Buildmark or similar protection we provide. We deal with all claims in the order they are made. When the overall limit is reached, we will be unable to pay any further claims.

Your rights

This section contains details about the following.

- The law that applies to Buildmark
- Selling your home
- Your right to cancel
- Enforcing your rights
- Our regulators
- The Financial Services Compensation Scheme
- Complaints
- How we protect your privacy

The law that applies to Buildmark

Under European law, we and the first owner may together choose which law will apply to Buildmark. However, unless we and the first owner agree otherwise at the time they accept the Buildmark offer, the law that applies to Buildmark is the law that applies where your home is if it is in the United Kingdom or the Isle of Man, or the law of England if your home is elsewhere.

Your rights under Buildmark apply as well as and do not replace or prevent you from using other legal rights (for example, rights you have under a contract or by law) that you may have against the builder or anyone else in connection with your home.

Selling your home

Each owner automatically has the benefit of the protection provided by Buildmark, under the terms and conditions in this policy document.

Under these terms and conditions, when you sell your home, you:

- have the right to continue with any claim made before the sale is completed (but may transfer that right to the new owner); and
- have no right to make new claims after the sale is completed.

Your right to cancel

Within 14 days of accepting the Buildmark offer, you have the right to cancel your Buildmark. If you want to cancel, tell us in writing (by email or letter). If you cancel, you will have no protection provided by Buildmark.

Enforcing your rights

If we want to, we can start or take over and carry out, in your name, legal proceedings for our own benefit to recover a payment we have made under Buildmark because of a claim you made. We have full rights to decide how to carry out proceedings and settle a claim.

Our regulators

We are an insurance company authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority and Prudential Regulation Authority to provide insurance and guarantees. Our firm reference number is 202261. The Financial Conduct Authority keeps a register of all regulated firms, so you can check that we are registered with them.

Complaints

We pride ourselves on the service we give our customers and we hope that you do not have a reason to complain.

If you are not satisfied with our service, or a decision we have made, please contact us and tell us you have a complaint. We will explain how we will deal with your complaint and give you written details of our complaints procedure. This will also include information about the types of complaint you can refer to the Financial Ombudsman Service if you are not satisfied with our final response to your complaint.

You can download a copy of our Customer Charter from our website at nhbc.co.uk or you can call us to ask us to send you a copy.

How we protect your privacy

We will normally keep personal information about you confidential. However, there are certain circumstances when we may need to pass on information about you.

- We may need to pass on personal information such as your name and address to the builder or to a contractor to help deal with a claim.
- We may be required by law to pass on personal information to another person in certain circumstances, for example if a court or government body says that we must.
- We may need to tell a future owner and your neighbours about claims you made, if that affects what the future owner and your neighbours can claim.
