

Earth bonding – certificate of compliance

(December 2008) (First issue)

Question

Is a certificate of compliance required for earth bonding?

Answer

BS7671 “Requirements for electrical installations” requires a completion certificate to be provided to the builder by the electrical contractor. This certificate covers all aspects of the installation, including earth bonding.